STRENGTH IN COMMUNITY

Hayden Campbell, a graduate student in urban planning, is building on his UW education to help create more equitable spaces on campus and in the city.

NEW LEADERSHIP IN THE COLLEGE

On January 1, 2019, we will welcome RenŻe Cheng as the new dean of the College of Built Environments. She comes to Seattle from the University of Minnesota and is eager to lead the college into its next chapter. Stay tuned to our website to learn more about RenŻe and our events calendar for opportunities to meet her in the coming year. We are grateful for dean John Schaufelberger’s years of leadership and are fortunate to not have to say goodbye to him. Once he concludes his term as dean on December 31, he will continue teaching in the Department of Construction Management. Please help us in welcoming RenŻe and thanking John!

SAVE THE DATE

Mark your calendars for upcoming lectures you won’t want to miss. Check out the CBE events calendar to see what else is coming up.
Upcoming UW Graduate School lecture series with a concurrent art exhibit in Gould Gallery

CBE is partnering with the Grad School on Memory & Place, a panel discussion with three artists on the connections between memory, place, and art. All three artists' works will be on exhibit in the Gould Gallery April 1-May 3. Registration for the panel discussion will open in early 2019. More details to come!

Didn't make it to Michael Bierut's lecture? You can now watch it online.

This lecture, "Graphic Design and the Third Dimension," was part of the "Drawing In Design: Exploring The Hand" lecture and workshop series, sponsored by the Department of Landscape Architecture, the School of Art, and GGN.
FALL HIGHLIGHTS

Call for Nominations: 2019 Alumni Awards
The UW Department of Architecture will host its second bi-annual alumni awards on April 6, 2019, to recognize the significant contributions made by alumni of their undergraduate and graduate programs. Learn more >

Distinguished Faculty Award for Lifetime Achievement
Dean Schaufelberger announced the 10 honorees at the New Academic Year Reception in October. Read more

Livable City Year + City of Bellevue
The UW is partnering with the City of Bellevue during the 2018-2019 academic year for its third Livable City Year partnership. Read more

New NSF-funded research grant
Marina Alberti received a research grant to investigate and understand how humans and their settlements affect the planet's ecosystem. Read more
Over 700 attended the 5th Annual Runstad Leadership Dinner

The Runstad Department of Real Estate held their annual leadership event on October 25th with keynote speaker Sally Jewell, U.S. Secretary of the Interior 2013-2017. The event had record attendance and was their most successful event to date.

VIDEO: Valuing Older Buildings

In her new book, Kathryn Rogers Merlino, associate professor of architecture, argues for the environmental benefit of reusing buildings rather than tearing them down.

VIDEO: Community, Environment, and Planning

Steven Fong (CEP ’18) created this video as his senior project to promote the CEP major. Steven now hopes to study film.